■ 'EDDAKKA' - A Percussion Instrument from Kerala

Area: Kerala
Community: Folk
Acc. No: 2016.13
Curated By: Smt. Rashmi Shukla, Museum Associate

The exhibit for the month of January, 2018 was a musical instrument named Edakka/Idakka from Kerala. It is a percussion instrument, very much similar to Damru in shape. It is hung from the left shoulder with the help of cloth strap and played with a curved wooden stick from the right side of the instrument while the position of its body and string is manipulated simultaneously with the help of other hand. It is one of the five instruments that constitute the panchvadyam ensemble of Kerala and considered to be Devavadyam. It is played during the puja session at temple for creating a mood of devotion, as the accompaniment to the sopanam music and also played during presentation of different dance forms like Kathakali, Mohiniattam and Krishnattam. The body of instrument is made out of the core part of Jackfruit tree trunk which is

■ JAUTUKA PEDI - A Dowry Box of Odisha

Area: Puri Odisha
Community: Folk
Acc. No: 2015.507 A - C
Curated By: Smt. P. Anuradha, Museum Associate

The exhibit of the month of March, 2018 came up with a special attraction from the category of Art and Craft of Odisha acquired by the museum as an important product of the workshop "Chitragatha" organized in the museum. Jautuka Pedi, a kind of decorative dowry box is used by the folk communities of Odisha in marriage ceremony. It is similar to a temple like structure. It is available in set of either three or five in nos. of different sizes decorated with painting of incidents from Krishna life, mythology of Jagannath, scenes from Ramayana, Ganesh, images of musician and dancer, animals, plants and other floral motifs.

According to the customary practices, Jautuka Pedi is given as a gift from bride's father to groom's family specifically at the time of marriage. In this box clothes, household utensils, ornaments and bride's daily use items like sindur (vermillion), chudi (bangles), alta (a kind of liquid red colour) etc

Often, earlier times as well as at some places today these goods were packed into a box or chest, traditionally made of wood and typically decorated as richly as means would allow, the better to show it off as a status symbol when the bride arrived at her-in-laws home. It is quite difficult to determine whether this pedi was in fact intended to serve for a dowry or whether it is commissioned for other purposes. However, it is most richly decorated marriage box, particularly those are decorated with good luck symbols and sign of red paint is the colour of celebration, fertility and blood, which breaks the traditional practice of 'Dowry'. It is made by the carpenters as per the order from the Chitrakars who purchase these boxes and prepare the wooden surface for painting.

■ Kala Vaibhav - The Unique World of Art and Crafts

Under the celebration of Rashtriya Sanskriti Mahotsav, IGRMS has organised an exhibition out of its reserve collection focusing on the collection of two states i.e. Nagaland and Manipur. The exhibition Kala Vaibhav presented a vivid and fascinating picture of each and every aspects of the life of Manipuri and Naga people through their Art and Crafts. The exhibition was jointly inaugurated by Shri Indrajit Grover, Director NCZCC Allahabad and Shri Harish Kumar, Director Ministry of Culture, in the presence of Prof Sarit K Chaudhuri and other official staff of IGRMS on 26th February 2018.

Art and Crafts holds an important role in man's life and society. It seems that Art and Human life have been inseparable and is as old as tradition in human existence. Among the people of Manipur and Nagaland the pieces of Art manufactured by them can be classified from several angles but there is no any doubt that by using the local raw materials such as wood, bamboo, cane, metal, clay, animal horn, bone, cotton, grass etc. they according to the requirement of object and its utility, they confirm the unique character of 'unity in diversity of Indian Culture'. All such creative products are related to their daily life as well as the identity of community.

The Manipuris are well known for their Art of weaving and the colorful Manipuri dresses are woven with different colors, signs, symbols and motifs which symbolically identify different groups and communities. The wood and metal crafts of Nagaland show the bravery and head hunting traditions. All these artistic products are associated with their ritual believes, ceremonial ethnicity, identity and several other domestic practices.

The Pluto writers are the one who inspires the children in building confidence, creative and morally sound. They are the true friends of young minds and help them to develop creative skills. These writers make their stories illustrative and highly attractive and interactive. They could read the thought and mind of juvenile readers. This workshop aimed to give a recognition to the contributions made by Pluto writers who remained unsung behind the scene. And inspire them by giving such an environment like IGRMS that offers a pan Indian Habitats and a sight into different tradition and culture of India at one place.

■ POTTERS TRADITION OF INDIA – Open Air Exhibition Phase III Workshop

Towards the development of a new exhibition on Potters trail ,devoted to pottery craft tradition of India, IGRMS has successfully organised the third phase of workshop by inviting potters from Manipur. The traditional pottery making artists prepared pots the height of its specificity and importance of the traditional pottery craft of Manipur. The artisans made different types of pots which are used in many rituals and traditional ceremonies from birth and death and installed in the pottery Trail in IGRMS.

The potters developed an exhibit that showcases the cultural glory of Chaphu Keithel (Potter's Market) in Manipur. The traditional market (Keithel) in Manipur, popularly known as the Nupi Keithel and it has a prominent place in the socio-economic and religious sphere of the people. Every market in the valley is believed to have been guarded by the Lairembi (Goddess) whose benign presence showers blessings to all the vendors. The market place without traditional handmade pottery in Manipur is negligible. The largest Khwairamband Keithel (market) in the heart of the state capital reserves special place for the pottery vendors. It is the segment that fulfils the domestic utilities and socio- religious ambit and cultural aspirations of the people who are strongly bounded local beliefs and practices.

■ आदिवासी विमर्श, अस्तित्व और अस्मिता का विमर्श है - पयोधी

संग्रहालय हमेशा से ही भारत सरकार की राजभाषा नीति के उत्कृष्ट कार्यान्वयन में प्रत्यनशील है। राजभाषा इकाई द्वारा आयोजित एक दिवसीय कार्यशाला सह संगोष्ठी कार्यक्रम के प्रारंभ में संग्रहालय के राजभाषा अधिकारी श्री सुधीर श्रीवास्तव द्वारा अतिथियों का परिचय एवं कार्यशाला और संगोष्ठी के उद्देश्य के बारे में बताया तत्पश्चात श्री आनंद कृष्ण वर्मा, राजभाषा अधिकारी भारत संचार निगम लिमिटेड भोपाल ने कार्यालयीन हिन्दी का स्वरूप एवं पत्राचार विषय पर राष्ट्रभाषा एवं राजभाषा के सृजन के क्रमिक इतिहास पर विस्तार से जानकारी दी।

कार्यक्रम के दूसरे सत्र में आदिवासी विषयों के विशेषज्ञ एवं प्रसिद्ध साहित्यकार श्री लक्ष्मी नारायण पयोधी ने हिन्दी सहित्य में आदिवासी विमर्श विषय पर व्याख्यान देते हुए कहा "साहित्य सृजन की पारंपरा मूलतः मौखिक रही है। विस्थापन उनके जीवन की मुख्य समस्या बन गई है अगर वे पहचान बचाते हैं तो अस्तित्व पर संकट खड़ा हो जाता है और अस्तित्व बचाते हैं तो सांस्कृतिक पहचान नष्ट हो जाती है। इसलिए आज का आदिवासी विमर्श, अस्तित्व और अस्मिता का विमर्श है।"

इस कार्यक्रम की अध्यक्षता करते हुए संग्रहालय के निदेशक प्रो सरित कुमार चौधुरी ने कहा कि हिन्दी कार्यशाला सह संगोष्ठी में श्री वर्मा के द्वारा राजभाषा के बारे में दी गई जानकारी कार्यालयीन पत्राचार हेतु काफी महत्वपूर्ण है साथ ही श्री पयोधी द्वारा व्यक्त किए गए विचार संग्रहालय में किए जा रहे शोध हेतु मील का पत्थर सबित होगा। कार्यक्रम का संचालन सुश्री सीमा खितौलिया ने किया एवं अतिथियों का स्वागत श्री राजेंद्र कुमार झारिया एवं धन्यवाद ज्ञापन श्री हेमंत बहादुर सिंह परिहार द्वारा दिया गया

■ NATIONAL SEMINAR - 'Tribal Situation in India: Contemporary Issues and Concerns'

The IGRMS as a part of its education and outreach activities has organised a three-day National Seminar on 'Tribal Situation in India: Contemporary Issues and Concerns' from 29 to 31 January, 2018 at Vivekananda Auditorium, Indira Gandhi National Tribal University, Amarkantak, Madhya Pradesh. Organised jointly by IGNTU, IGRMS, TATA Steel Ltd., and IAS. The conference had three Memorial lectures and a seminar on the proposed theme. Memorial Lectures were organized to pay homage to the three doyens of Indian Anthropology; Nirmal Kumar Bose Memorial Lecture, Sasanka Sekhar Sarkar Memorial Lecture, and Dharani Sen Memorial Lecture. The seminar aimed at providing a comprehensive overview of contemporary issues and concerns on tribes and their development. Academicians and social scientists coming from across the country expressed their expert views to enhance living standards of the tribal while preserving their culture. While inaugurating 47th Annual Conference of the Indian Anthropological Society (IAS) and the Seminar, Prof. Rajat Kanti Das, President, IAS described various issues pertaining to tribes in India and asked social scientists and anthropologists to come up with innovative suggestion to solve their challenges. Prof. Sarit K. Chaudhary, Director, IGRMS, Bhopal said that tribes having few thousand population in north-eastern states should be brought under the purview of higher education. 'Through higher education a positive transformation can be ensured for tribes. There is also a need for interdisciplinary study of contemporary issues of tribes to come up with innovative suggestions', he added. Prof. Alok Shrotriya, Dean (Academics) discussed two point of views regarding the development of tribes. First, they should be leave on their own cause with little help from the society and second-they should be assimilated with the society through technological interventions. He suggested integrated approach for their development giving necessary help from the society while learning from their rich cultural values and traditional knowledge. The Seminar witnessed different technical sessions ranging from sustainable development, poverty and unemployment, governance and policy, empowerment of women, tribal art and craft traditions to health and education. 150 researchers from different institutions have submitted their research papers for the Seminar. Two books from Dr. Nar Singh Kumar were also released at this occasion. Inaugural Session was attended by Prof. Prasanna K. Samal and Ms. Chaitali Kamble. Dr. Santosh Sonker presented vote of thanks.

■ EXHIBITION - Sikkim and the Sikkimies

A special exhibition was inaugurated on 21st march 2018, the first day of the foundation day celebration by Shri K.T. Gyaltsen, (Legal Advisor to the Chief Minister of Sikkim & former Speaker, Sikkim Legislative Assembly), Ms. Sarala Rai (Secretary, Social Justice, Empowerment and Welfare, Govt. of Sikkim in the presence of Prof. Sarit Kumar Chaudhuri, Director IGRMS. Once a tiny little kingdom in the Himalayas, Sikkim became an integral part of the Indian Nation and attained the 22nd state of India in 14th April 1975. The people of Sikkim, Lepcha, Bhutia and the Nepalese together constitutes Sikkimese population who are privileged to have their unique socio-cultural, political and historical presence of the ancient past. They regard the mountain Kenchendonga as their guardian deity whose benevolence can protect them from the miseries and roars can crumble them from the very existence. The belief is strongly reflected in the life and culture of the people who are living with great endurance in these ever growing mountainous rugged terrain of the great Himalayas. Fairly known as the land of mountains and melting snows, Sikkim also has its crown the great ancient monasteries and temples where Buddhism, Hinduism and animistic traditions flourished parallel to the ethos of the great Himalayan state. The exhibition was visualised to present the glory of mountain and its people who stands sentinel to protect the amity of the great Himalayas through their exquisite art and aesthetic traditions of Monastic cultures, mountain livelihood patterns, animistic beliefs and practices, that were profoundly reflected from the ethnographic objects collected by the IGRMS

■ Second Memorial Lecture - L.K. Ananthakrishna Iyer

The IGRMS has been initiating various academic events to highlight the latest and versatile experiences and research works of great Indian Anthropologists for the benefits of budding anthropologists, museologists and masses. In continuation of such endeavours IGRMS initiated a new memorial lecture entitled Prof. L. K. Ananthakrishna Iyer Memorial Lecture in the year 2016-17. This was the second lecture in the series given by Prof. P.K. Misra, a renowned anthropologist on 'Making of Tribe and Morden Dilemma in Studying Them'. In his presentation he intended to show that in spite of the fact that in independent India the tribes have been provided with constitutional safeguards and attempts to develop them and integrate them with larger Indian society, they are the most deprived and displaced people in the country. Prof. Misra argue that what we are witnessing today is to a large extent owing to the legacy of colonization for which tri-junction of south India provides enough and appropriate illustrations. Moreover it appears that the students of tribal studies in India have reached a blind alley- neither they have been able to set new relevant and challenging goals theoretical or otherwise for studies nor have been able to gain the confidence of the people they study. They have remained outsiders hungry for information- raw material for processing them in academic centres while people they have been studying are persistently and systematically peripheral zed. We need to ask as to how we have reached to this stage, what are the problems in this stage and where do we go from here.

■ National Symposium

On the occasion of Sikkim Cultural Festival a national symposium was organised to commemorate the 42nd foundation day of IGRMS. The topic of two days symposium was Historicity livelihood and emerging socio-cultural reality of Sikkim: A bordering state in Transition. ■ 14th Annual IGRMS Lecture

The 14th Annual IGRMS Lecture was delivered by Prof. T.B. Subba of Northeast Hill University, Shillong, Meghalaya. Prof. T.B. Subba spoke on “Middle Class and Museums in India” and the lecture was chaired by Anthropologist Prof. P.K. Misra. In his lecture Prof. Subba threw light on museums in India and what kind people visits museum in India. The visitors to most museums predominantly in India belongs to two categories. One category is the student on educational excursions and other is the tourist. While taking about short falls of middle class not coming to visit museums, he sighted many examples of museums in India. While talking about Don Bosco Museums for Indigenous People he said that he asked many people like govt. service holders, teachers, professor whether they have ever visited the Don Bosco museum. Someone told twice and someone thrice, for project work on museum or some other official work, but he couldn't find a person who visited the museum for the sake of knowing, visiting, seeing or satisfying their curiosity. Taking about the Private Museums, he said very less people visit those collections that are not properly captioned and even family members except one or two elderly person does not know the purpose of keeping those old items in the house.

Again public museum are accessible to everyone but time is not suitable for the visitors, in some museums, staffs are not well educated to differentiate between the foreign visitors and the visitors from north east. Such ignorance certainly discourse the foot falls on museum he added. He emphasised lack of waking up curiosity among the visitors by the museum staff, lack of performances and exhibitions based on new themes and as per the demand of visitors, paucity of various facilities provided to the visitors etc. are to be rectified to attract the middle class to the museums in India.

Prof. Subba suggest that one of the key factor to attract the middle class to the museums is that various exhibitions on Social Diversity shall be organized and also bring new changes by organizing exhibitions on new themes and replacing new objects with the older one. Prof. P.K. Mishra who headed the Lecture also insisted that the museum should emphasizes on various oppositions of our society which are in vogue to museum make itself incidental.

■ Screening of Documentary Film by Satyajit Ray

On the third and the last day of the 42nd foundation day of the Indira Gandhi Rashtriya Manav Sanghralaya, a film show was organized in the rock art conference hall of the museum. In this film show, famous filmmaker and Academy Award winner Satyajit Ray directed Sikkim movie was shown. In this almost an-hour-long film, Sikkim's natural beauty, specialties of the local people, their religion, rituals and royal families were displayed. It is worth mentioning that Satyajit Ray himself did background narration in the movie. The film left the audience here mesmerized. On this occasion, large number of audience and artists took part in Sikkim cultural festival were present.
